

DO & DON'TS

EN

Respect for Local Cultures

DO

Adopt a respectful attitude toward local customs, traditions, and cultural norms.

Observe rules of etiquette, particularly in places of worship, villages, cultural sites, and public spaces.

Adapt clothing and behavior to the local context and to the recommendations provided by guides.

DON'T

Avoid any attitude or behavior that could be perceived as intrusive, disrespectful, or inappropriate to the local cultural context.

Do not photograph people or sensitive locations without prior authorization.

Protection of the Natural Environment

DO

Respect the natural sites visited by staying on designated routes and following the instructions provided on site.

Limit environmental impact by reducing waste, using resources responsibly, and adopting responsible behavior throughout all activities.

DON'T

Do not leave any waste, do not remove natural elements, and avoid any action likely to damage local ecosystems.

Do not disturb wildlife or plant life, and do not enter protected or restricted areas.

Cultural & Heritage Sites

DO

Respect the specific rules applicable to cultural and heritage sites, particularly regarding movement, photography, and conservation.

Follow the guides' recommendations and contribute to the preservation of the sites visited.

DON'T

Avoid any behavior that could lead to the degradation or trivialization of sites, such as failing to respect local rules or using visited spaces inappropriately.

Interactions with Local Communities

DO

Promote respectful, open, and considerate interactions with local communities.

Favor an approach based on listening, understanding, and mutual respect, within the framework of balanced cultural exchange.

DON'T

Avoid behaviors that could create inappropriate expectations or situations of dependency, particularly the unregulated distribution of goods or money.

Do not adopt paternalistic or intrusive attitudes.

Activities and On-Site Safety

DO

Comply with the safety instructions communicated by local guides and on-site representatives.

Report any unusual or uncomfortable situation and adopt a cautious and responsible attitude during the activities offered.

DON'T

Do not deviate from the established guidelines or take individual initiatives that could compromise the safety of the group or the smooth running of activities.
